TRIBUTE TO MAYOR GRICE

Citizens of All Parties at Dinner to Approve Administration.

FINE SPIRIT OF FELLOWSHIP RULES

City Executive Soon to Retire Guest of Honor at Notable Feast.

"I am glad to pay my humble tribute to the best business administration the city of Fort Wayne has ever had."

"If this is a funeral and I could have one like it, I would be ready to go now."

These and similar sentences from the address made by Hon. Henry C. Berghoff, former mayor of Fort Wayne, at the testimonial banquet given by over one hundred and fifty representatives of all political beliefs to Mayor Jesse Grice at the Anthony Monday night gave expression to the sentiment that ruled the auspicious affair.

Following former Mayor Berghoff, Guy Colerick, once city attorney and soon again to be approved what Mr. Berghoff had said and added to it a sincere and eloquent tribute of his own. Both of these and other speakers were vociferously cheered.

Added the congratulations given Mayor Grice on the success of his administration, to close within a few days, was the not less hearty sentiment that the administration of Mayor Hoesy may prove as successful and that under his direction all things pertaining to the government of the city may work together for the good of Fort Wayne.

Hearty Spirit Ruled the Hour.

The banquet was designed as an expression of Fort Wayne citizenship's appreciation of the work of the Grice administration. Men of all parties were of the company. Democrats who hold office in the county and who are to be a part of Mr. Hoesy's administration honored the occasion with their presence. The members of the city council and several councilmen-elect as well as the men who in official capacity have been associated in the present administration were gathered at the banquet tables. A program of music enlivened the affair and the several short speeches kindled enthusiasm and provoked a most generous outburst of friendly sentiment and civic pride. A hearty spirit ran through the entire evening.

Harry G. Hogan, city attorney in the Grice administration, acquitted himself with fine grace as toastmaster and presented the speakers in happy fashion.

The menu was in all ways satisfactory and at the conclusion of the dinner Miss Edith Nickell, with Miss Helene Spindler as accompanist, sang three songs with exquisite beauty and finish. Her singing created great enthusiasm and the big crowd of diners were not willing to let her go. "The Quaint Q's," a male quartet from the Empress theater bill, sang several songs with great effect and near the end of the evening Frank E. Stonder, with Frederick Church as accompanist, rendered several solos so effectively that he had a hard time breaking away.

Postmaster Hanna's Address.

The first speaker of the evening was Postmaster Robert B. Hanna, whose address on "Retrospection" was in part as follows:

Mr. Toastmaster and Gentlemen

I fear that my spirit is not in harmony with the good cheer at this banquet; some how or other banquets given in honor of public officials whose terms of office are about to expire do not appeal to me.

And so it is, my friends, that I am reminded tonight that my own successor has been named, and that my official funeral is not far distant; it seems to me that I can smell the

POLICE GUARD AT CHURCH AND HALL

Fear of Radical Outbreak
Impels Much Caution
at Calumet.

WOMAN HEARD SHOTS

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 30.—Under-surface mutterings rather than actual developments marked the copper mine strike situation today. Fears of radical action have caused some extraordinary precautions to be taken but so far as could be learned there was no good foundation for such fear.

As a result of this feeling, however,
the usual holiday gatherings in churches and halls have been closely guarded by deputy sheriffs. Children of members of the Citizens' Alliance who attended entertainments under the leadership of ministers who have cast their lot with that organization did so with armed officers stationed at approaches to the buildings.

The coroner's inquest into the Christmas eve panic developed slowly today.
One woman swore she heard two shots fired in the height of the panic but her hearing was more acute than that of others who told only of the cries of "fire" and the sound of the rushing feet punctuated by overturning chairs and the building's collapse.

$21.49 UNTOUCHED
IN COUNTRY ROAD

Bag Containing Money Lay
in View of Public Traffic

FOR NEARLY A MONTH

For nearly one month, a shopping bag containing two purses and cash to the amount of $21.49, lay untouched in the Huntington road, about one mile west of the city. The bag might have been allowed to rest in peace for all time to come, had it not been for the curiosity of Edgar B. Jones, a farmer residing on rural route No. 7, out of Fort Wayne.

The bag and money belonged to Mrs.
Joseph Arter, of 728 Poplar street, and was lost a few days after Thanksgiving, while she was making a trip to the country. Hundreds of people drove by it and over it each day, and it was advertised for in local newspapers, but was not returned to its owner until a few days ago.

Mr. Jones noticed the badly mutilated bag crushed into the mud when he drove to the city in the morning, but thought it was some article that had been thrown away by its owner. Returning in the evening, he again noticed the bespattered bag and picked it out of the road. Opening the bag his hands came in contact with two purses, and opening the purses he found in all $21.49, and a card bearing the name of Mrs. Arter.

He communicated with Mrs. Arter, she identified the bag and things it contained, and it was immediately returned to her.

OWNS $15,000 REALTY
EARNED AS MOTORMAN.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 30.—Thomas Mulvey, an employee of the local street car company for thirty years, testified at the hearing before the public utilities commission today that he owns real estate valued at $15,000, which he had paid for out of his earnings as a motorman. He did not join the union. Mulvey detailed attacks made on his car at the beginning of the strike.

BULLETS FLYING
IN STRIKE CLASH

Women Hurl Boiling Water,
Hot Ashes and Garbage,
at Policemen.

ONE WOMAN IS SHOT

Sheldon, Conn., Dec. 30.—Another clash between the police and strike sympathizers, during which a number of shots were fired, occurred here today in connection with the strike in the Blumenthal company's silk mill. Mrs. Mary Smarsch, a non-participant, was seriously wounded by a revolver bullet.

As a detail of police was passing a tenement house near the mill, women began to throw boiling water, hot ashes and garbage down on the officers. The police charged into the house, but met stiff resistance. Strikers and others outside attacked the police from the rear and for a time the officers had uphill work. After a hard struggle, during which many shots were fired, the police took eight prisoners, including two women. Mrs. Smarsch was passing through the street when hit by a stray bullet.

OLD "BOYS" ENJOY
A HAPPY REUNION

Second Annual Banquet of Aqueduct Club Well Attended.

OLD DAYS RECALLED

When the Pennsylvania railroad ran down Lafayette street to the old canal, and when the county fairs were held in the woods near the old Rockhill house, on the present site of St. Joseph's hospital, Fort Wayne had a bunch of real live boys—typical boys that one finds in most small country towns.

The boys of those days are men now,
some of them gray of hair and aged,
others aged but apparently enjoying the best of health and the best period of their lives, and Monday night they got together at the Elks' temple, on West Berry street, enjoyed a sumptuous banquet, a vaudeville show and spent hours together in reminiscences, featuring their special recollections concerning incidents occurring at and about the old aqueduct.

It was the second annual banquet of the Fort Wayne Aqueduct club and was attended by one hundred and twenty-five men who are past forty-five years of age and who have lived west of Calhoun street all of their lives. William P. Cooper, president of the club, acted as toastmaster, and those who spoke were Senator S. B. Fleming, Major G.
Will Wilson, William E. Hood, George
Fry, of Columbus, Ohio; John Felker, of Toledo; Daniel McFee, Thomas Bailey, of Chicago; Charles McCulloch,
H. C. Rockhill, James M. McKay,
Charles S. Bash, Max Wolf, of Pittsburg, and Eugene B. Smith.

Secretary Thomas A. Coombs received communications from members of the club who were unable to be present.
Among them were O. F. Pennabaker, Charles Redelsheimer, Charles A. Book-
walter, R. M. Webb and Samuel Stophliet. A communication from Henry M.
Williams was also read.

Charles Nestle acted as sergeant-at-arms, an appointive office by the president, and with a baseball bat taller than himself, "Commodore Foote," as the tiny man is known in the show world, proceeded to enforce order and he succeeded in fulfilling the duties of his exalted office.

Some Foot Race.

Charles S. Bash is not much of a sprinter now, principally because he has put on too much weight, so to speak, but there was a time when Mr. Bash prided himself on his speed and an exciting race between him and Charles Huestis was said to be the speedier of the two, and so a contest was arranged for, and the two dashed from Wayne street north to Berry, on Fairfield avenue. Mr. Bash was the winner and the

John Albert Fish Faces
Charge of Arson on High Seas.

IS BOER WAR VETERAN

Boston, Dec. 30.—The trial of John Albert Fish, a civil engineer of New York and a Boer war veteran, on charges of arson on the high seas which began today in the federal court, is said to be the first under the statute governing such cases. The indictment alleged that Fish set fire to his auxiliary schooner yacht, the Santa, off Edgemont on the night of October 25, 1910.
The yacht was destroyed. Since his arrest in New York last September Fish has been at liberty under $100,000 bail.
He claims the fire started either from a cigarette built on from a stove and that his first knowledge of it was when he was awakened by the crackling of the flames. Fish and two lady guests, his cousins, with the four members of the crew, escaped in their night clothes into a small boat and rowed ashore.
Fish, who was engaged in engineering work in South Africa at the outbreak of the Boer war, enlisted in the British army. During the war he was promoted to a captaincy in the imperial horse.

ADMIT BANKER UNDER BOND.

Duelling Financier Must Quit United States Within Month.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Emil Zerkowicz, the banker of Budapest, detained by the immigration authorities at Ellis Island
because of his dueling exploits in Austria-Hungary, was ordered admitted by the department of labor today under a bond of $500. The condition of the bond is that Zerkowicz shall leave the United States within one month of his admission.

Rome, Dec. 30.—Duke Francesco of

tate of the dead prelate.

REBELS FORCE
THE FIGHTING

Hurl New Attack on Routed Federals Crouching in Ojinaga Trenches.

ORTEGA IS BENT
ON EXTERMINATION

Attack May Bring General Rush Across River to United States.

Presidio, Texas, Dec. 30.—Fighting between Mexican federals and constitutionalists at Ojinaga, Mexico, was resumed this morning. The rebels advanced upon the federal trenches where the remnant of Huerta's army in northern Mexico had taken refuge after its disastrous defeat of last night.

Dazed and demoralized by their disheartening encounter with the rebel forces, eleven Mexican federal generals and the remnant of their army that had escaped, crouched today in the trenches at Ojinaga, uncertain whether they should put up a resistance against another attack or scatter in disorder.

Troops Scout Border.

Meanwhile United States troops on this side of the river were scouting the border for any federals who might have crossed during the night and to check any general rush across the river as seemed imminent last night when during a panic in the garrison at Ojinaga about 500 federals leaped into the river.

The situation was regarded as critical, both because it appeared to hold the fate of the federal army and it threatened a general rush across the river of all the federal troops, should the rebels close in.

Within the confines of the village were all that remained of the northern division of Huerta's army. About them on the hills are the advance guard of Gen. Ortega's rebel army and still further back are the rest of the rebels. All are moving under instructions from Gen. Villa to exterminate the enemy if possible.

In Pitiable Plight.

After last night's rout in which they were so completely disorganized, the rebels are in a pitiable plight. Many crossed to the American side or were shot to death for muniting at their officers' feet on the Mexican side, the federals apparently were in no position to maintain a fighting front. Upon the ability of the generals to rally their soldiers will depend whether the Huerta army is to keep or lose its last remaining foothold in the northern part of Mexico.

The result of the first attack by the rebels as summed up early today was:
4,200 rebels who had been advancing for more than a week from Chihuahua City had reached La Mula Pass, a canyon leading from the interior to Ojinaga.
At the pass about 18 miles from Ojin-aga they opened fire on and defeated
the few federal outposts.

Caused Absolute Terror.

The 4,000 federals hemmed in at Ojin-aga had been in discord due to the with-

RECEIVERS FOR SIEGEL STORES

District Court at Boston
Makes Ancillary Appointments.

ACTION IS FRIENDLY

New York, Dec. 30.—Six enterprises controlled by the Siegel Stores Corporation in this city and in Boston were thrown into bankruptcy today in friendly proceedings instituted in the federal courts. The concerns did an annual gross business estimated at $400,000,
but it is understood that their Christmas business did not come up to expectations and they found themselves hard pressed by curtailment of banking credit. The failure had been discounted in the financial district and had no effect on the stock market.

The companies for which receivers
were named are: The Fourteenth street store, New York; the Simpson-Crawford company, New York; a department store, the Henry Siegel company, Boston; a department store; Henry Siegel & Co.,
bankers, New York; Henry Siegel & Co., wholesalers, New York; the Merchants Express company, New York.

The Greenhut-Siegel-Corcoran company of this city is not allied with the chain of stores in trouble and was in no way involved. Siegel, Cooper & Co., of Chicago, although its stock is controlled by the Siegel Stores Corporation, is likewise not affected. On the other hand its business is declared to be in a highly prosperous condition. The banking business was conducted in connection with the Fourteenth street store in this city, but the amount of deposits or the number of depositors was not made known. Counsel announced, however, that Henry Sie-gel and Frank E. Vogel, principal owners of the stores, had pledged $3,500,000 in stock in the Siegel Stores Corporation toward the depositors' protection. The bank will proceed to liquidate.

Efforts will be made to reorganize the chain of stores as soon as possible.
Meanwhile the business will be conducted by the receivers.

TWO-BIT CHECK AND ONE SOUSE

That Was the Combination
That Put John Ohler,
Hoagland, in Bad.

NEWS OF THE POLICE

John Ohler runs a hay-baling industry in and about Hoagland, keeps an account at the town bank, carries a check book in his pocket and now and then comes to Fort Wayne to transact business, visit relatives, mingle with other friends and makes divers and sundry calls on certain business emporiums licensed to sell vinous, spirituous and malt liquors in less quantities than a quart, with privilege of allowing same to be drunk where sold. Mr. Ohler came in at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon on a belated Grand Rapids and Indiana train. He brought his check book with him and between the hour of his auspicious arrival and the time of midnight when Officer Pattee gathered him in at the Weber hotel lunch room, had issued several orders on his banker at Hoagland. After having his lunch at the Weber, Mr. Ohler discovered that he was some shy the tax the waiter had tagged him and he drew a check for two bits. Two bits is but a quarter and quarter but 25 cents and the waiter admitted it. At the same time the garçon desired to observe and call attention to the fact that a check for two bits is neither a quarter nor 25 cents until it is cashed and of such possibilities with the Ohler check he had gentle misgivings, if not violent doubt. Officer Pattee says he considered Mr. Ohler drunk enough to come within the meaning of the statutes that put a prohibition upon public intoxication and in view of the epidemic of forgery and check operations in Fort Wayne decided there was a case for investigation. Hence the gasoline go-cart and the whisking away of Mr. Ohler to the police headquarters, where he was booked for drunkenness. This morning Mr. Ohler was represented by counsel and furnished an interesting contest. His own testimony was a bit devious and rather convincing of the soundness of the charge on which his trial rested. Judge Mungovan found him guilty and then continued the case indefinitely.

Discharges Duty; Celebrate It.
Walter Fasig came down from Auburn yesterday to place his invalid father aboard a Washburn train for St. Louis. This ill-fated trip will be performed by Fasig relaxed and began to enjoy himself. He continued to gather together much material and out of them he brewed a thick stew. He wanted to get back to Auburn, as he informed the court this morning and was permitted.

Saw Different Parts of Map.
Joe Martin, a flouter, who came into Fort Wayne bundled in four coats, one of which he was trying to sell when arrested, was turned loose after being held for several days. He was told to beat it for Bridgeport, Conn., where he has home ties, but wanted to get his shoes mended.

"Nix," said the court: "there's peril in stopping a minute. Get your shoes fixed in New Haven."

"Hully gee, judge, that's darned near home," said Martin.

"You've got your pin stuck in the wrong end of the map," said the court. "The New Haven train isn't even a good start toward the one you mean. You'll be there long before now, because you're starting right now."

And Martin was:

Woman Cuts Loose.
After finishing Sadie Shuehen $5 and costs for throwing dirt in the alley alongside her East Main street property, the woman cut loose at the court in sage fashion and was silenced only when Judge Mungovan sternly threatened to lock her up. The case was revealed. Neighbors and sanitary officers testified that the filth of the place is shocking.

REBELS FORCE THE FIGHTING

holding of their pay and quarrels among the regulars and volunteers. The news of the rebel approach had caused increasing anxiety but when the firing was heard it caused absolute terror. About 500 federalists carrying their guns jumped into the river to seek safety on the American side. Of this number at least 400 were driven back before they got out of the water. Another 100 were captured by Major McNamee, commanding officer. These were disarmed, marched up to the town of Presidio and then forced back to the Mexican side.

A few of those who had been wounded were taken in charge by Dr. Burnside, army surgeon. They reported that some of the federalists had been killed. None of the federal officers came across so far as was known. The greatest confusion reigned among the federalists who were still kept within the fortifications and trenches of Ojinaga. The men flatly refused to fight. All army ranks and divisions were ignored and the whole garrison was a mob.

Every Man for Himself.
"Every man for himself" was the attitude of mind. But the generals stood firm, endeavoring to present a gallant front. Generals Salazar and Orozco, commanders of volunteers, are said to have drawn their revolvers and threatened to shoot every soldier who refused to obey.

The federalists appear to have scattered at the first fire for the fighting which preceded the disorder at Ojinaga had not been much more than a series of skirmishes.

As the situation stood today the federalists have three alternatives: To fight it out in Ojinaga; to retreat to the state of Coahuila or to attempt to cross to the United States. A federal general before the rebels arrived declared: "We will stay here until the last man drops."

Open Desultory Fire.
A desultory fire opened by the rebels, who appeared within sight of the village in increased numbers, indicated that the rebel forces intended to push the fight right into the federal stronghold and put a decisive end to the conflict. The federalists had retreated to the innermost trenches, apparently without hope of repulsing the attacking forces. Only a few shots came from the federal lines in the early stages of today's fighting. As viewed from the American side the situation on the federalists seemed desperate as they had no ground for further retreat except across the river unless they should try the hazardous alternative of a forced march into the state of Coahuila.

VOICE KICK ON RULE OF PARTY

O'Connor, Delphi; J. H. McGill, Valparaiso; J. W. Kitch, South Bend; James A. Bell and W. F. Seidel, of Elkhart, and former Congressman Boehne and Albert J. Veneman, former speaker of the house, of Evansville.

The purpose of the conference as set forth in the call are to formulate plans at this conference "to place the democratic party of Indiana in harmony and accord with the principles and policies of Woodrow Wilson and William Jennings Bryan. The Wilson democrats feel that among other things we need a state-wide primary law that will protect both the voter and the candidate from manipulation of politicians and regulate the latter who have brought the management of our party's affairs into disrepute, to the scrap heap, here they belong."

The movement originated at South Bend some weeks ago and it was said at today's conference that the meeting today was not to be a large one, but that an organization would be perfected and that subsequently a state-wide meeting would be held as well as a banquet.

A number of the members of the committee it is understood will seek reelection. In the First district it is understood that Mr. Sontag will not be a candidate and that Robert Baltzell, of Princeton, will seek to represent the First district on the committee. It is understood that Mr. Meredith, of the Sixth, will also decline to be a candidate for reelection and that H. G. Lynch, of Newcastle, will try to succeed him. It is said that Lewis, of the Fourth district, and Ruckelshaus, of the Seventh, will have opposition for reelection but no one so far has announced his candidacy. Perry Smith, of Warsaw, will be a candidate for the committee from the Thirteenth district. Mr. Woodward having declined to serve another term.

The new committee after its election will be confronted with the proposition of selecting a state chairman. Fred A. Sims, the present chairman, desires to retire but it is understood strong influences are being brought to bear to have him accept the leadership of the party for another term. If Chairman Sims positively declines reelection it is more than likely that John G. Bryson, of the Fifth district, may be a candidate. L. W. Hanley, of the Terre Haute Star, is mentioned for secretary of the committee. Whether the resolutions adopted by the republican national committee at the meeting in Washington, Dec. 16, will be taken up at today's meeting is not known. It will probably be late today before the committee finishes its work.

committee were taken up today when the committee met here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. A number of questions will come up for decision which will include the time for the election of precinct committeemen and county chairmen as well as the time and place for holding meetings in the several congressional districts for the election of district chairmen.

The question of whether there shall be a general meeting of republicans previous to the state convention will be discussed at today's meeting. There is a sentiment among many leaders that a sort of a love feast should be held some time early in the year before the state convention meets. The committee will not doubt appoint someone to fill the vacancy caused in the Eighth district by the death of George Lilly, of Anderson, some weeks ago. The following members constitute the committee: First district, Marcus S. Sontag, Evansville; Second, Will H. Hayes, Sullivan; Third, Robert W. Morris, New Albany; Fourth, John W. Lewis, Seymour; Fifth, John G. Bryson, Brazil; Sixth, Linus Meredith, Richmond; Seventh, John C. Ruckelshaus, Indianapolis; Eighth, vacant; Ninth, Charles J. Wheeler, Noblesville; Tenth, W. O. GERMAN COMEDIAN IS DEAD.

Joseph Giempetro Succumbs to Attack of Paralysis.

New York, Dec. 30.—The death of Joseph Giempetro, Germany's leading comedian, is announced in advices received here from Berlin today. His death was sudden, the result of a paralytic stroke. THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Psalms 66:1-20.

- 1 Make a joyful noise unto God, all ye lands:
- 2 Sing forth the honour of his name; make his praise glorious.
- 3 Say unto God, How terrible art thou in thy works! through the greatness of thy power shall thine enemies submit themselves unto thee.
- 4 All the earth shall worship thee, and shall sing unto thee; they shall sing to thy name. Selah.
- 5 Come and see the works of God; he is terrible in his doing toward the children of men.
- 6 He turned the sea into dry land; they went through the flood on foot; there did we rejoice in him.
- 7 He ruleth by his power forever; his eyes behold the nations; let not the rebellious exalt themselves. Selah.
- 8 O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard;
- 9 Which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved.
- 10 For thou, O God, has proved us; thou hast tried us, as silver is tried.
- 11 Thou broughtest us into the net; thou laidst affliction upon our loins.
- 12 Thou has caused men to ride over our heads; we went through fire and through water; but thou broughtest us out into a wealthy place.
- 13 I will go into thy house with burnt offerings; I will pay thee my vows.
- 14 Which my lips have uttered, and my mouth hath spoken, when I was in trouble.
- 15 I will offer unto thee burnt sacrifices of fatlings, with the incense of rams; I will offer bullocks with goats. Selah.
- 16 Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul.
- 17 I cried unto him with my mouth, and he was extolled with my tongue.
- 18 If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me;
- 19 But verily God hath heard me; he hath attended to the voice of my prayer.
- 20 Blessed be God, which hath not turned away my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

Fire Protection in Schools

Citing the fact that there have been some fifty-five schoolhouse fires in Indiana since last May, Fire Marshal Longley is placing emphasis upon the necessity for more rigorous precautions against fire in the buildings in which more than a million children gather during the school hours five days in a week. Fortunately, none of the fires this year have been of serious character and none have cost life, but this fact in no wise lessens the necessity for greater precautions.

In making his recommendations for safe schoolhouse construction Mr. Longley is being guided by the Ohio building code, adopted soon after the Collinwood disaster in Ohio, in which the lives of more than one hundred and sixty school children were lost. This code not only creates definite standards for building construction, but provides for a statewide system of inspection as well. Among other requirements, the Ohio building code definitely names the space to be occupied by buildings for the various grades, and fixes a maximum height for each. It provides for fire provisions and fire stops, for the purpose of preventing the spread of fire from one part of the building to another.

All heating plants, by the Ohio code, must be placed in a fireproof heater room, and no boilers carrying more than thirty-five pounds of pressure are permitted within the walls of a school building. The spacing of desks, the requirements for safe electric wiring, and the location of heater pipes near exits are all provided for in the code. Because in many of the tragedies from burning schoolhouses it has been definitely shown that even the simplest precaution would have been sufficient to save many lives, Mr. Longley is anxious to impress upon every Indiana community the need for securing safety in schoolhouse construction.

Asked for a New Years resolution, Governor Samuel M. Ralston's response was an expression that is very nearly a model of its kind, and one that we all might well adopt as our own, even though we are not occupying positions so exalted as that of the governorship of Indiana. "It is my resolution for 1914," writes the governor, "to stand officially for better sanitary conditions; for a cleaner citizenship; for a stronger bond of fellowship between men; for the preservation of the rights of organized society at any cost; for a greater efficiency in the public service, and for a higher conception of the possibilities of American citizenship. These things are essential for the happiness of the people. And the great function of the government is to promote the happiness of the people."

After all, serving the people in public office is not unvaryingly the thankless task one is sometimes led to believe. Occasionally there is a popular expression of appreciation and esteem that cannot fail to warm the heart of the public servant who is oftener accustomed to unfavorable criticism than commendation because humanity is more in the habit of criticizing than commending, even when the latter is plainly due. The dinner in honor of Mayor Grice, tendered Monday evening, was a tribute which that gentleman will cherish in memory long after the trials and the triumphs of his official reign are forgotten.

In retaining Edward G. Hoffman, of this city, as its district chairman and its representative on the democratic state central committee the democracy of the Twelfth district has acted wisely. Mr. Hoffman's record in that position is an admirable one, and has demonstrated that he possesses to a very marked degree the qualifications for leadership of this sort. He is skilled in the art of politics, is an organizer and a harmonizer, and above all enjoys the unquestioned confidence of the party in every section of the district.

BUSINESS AND POLITICS.

(Pittsburgh Dispatch.)

One of the persistent features of the day is the representation that business is subject to attacks from political sources. Its latest phase is to take some recent remarks by President Wilson that the administration is friendly to business as a sign that its policy is to be changed, and which is not said in plain terms—that business corporations can go on and do as they please in the future.

The fact is that legitimate business has always been favored by the legislation of this country. The questions that have occupied the legislation of the past few years have been those between different branches of business. If a trust in its effort to secure monopoly uses unfair means to drive a dozen or a score of its competitors out of business, does the law in stopping such unfair methods attack business or defend it? If railroad management extracts from merchants or manufacturers who ship over its lines rates 20 per cent too high, is not the position of the law that rates must be reasonable a defense of business?

We do not, of course, undertake to deny that there may be exceptional instances in which state legislation may have carried the regulatory tendency to undue interference. But we do assert that the great body of such legislation is animated by the spirit of friendship to honest and lawful business. It is the dishonest and unlawful kind that is disturbed by legislation against its offenses. The criticism to be made against that sort of enactment is that it was delayed too long. If you cannot unscramble eggs in the business world, the law should not have permitted them to be scrambled.

President Wilson's words after signing the currency bill undoubtedly meant that the administration was friendly to honest and legitimate business. If the great corporations will conduct their business with careful regard for the laws, they will get along all right. But if they return to the old practice of robbing the public with one hand and their shareholders with another, they may expect trouble to continue.

Cheap and Easily Made, But Ends a Cough Quickly

How to Make the Very Best Cough Remedy at Home. Fully Guaranteed.

This pint of cough syrup is easily made at home and saves you about $2.00. It is compared with ordinary cough remedies. It relieves obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—quickly, and is splendid, too, for bronchitis, asthma, spasmodic cough and hoarseness.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (left cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Tastes good.

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxative—both excellent features. Pinex, as perhaps you know, is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in quinine and the other natural healing pine elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this mixture, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup remedy. This plan has often been imitated, but the old successful formula never been equaled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

VAN WERTT MAYOR NAMES HEAD.

High Grade Men Chosen Chairmen of Service and Safety Departments.

Van Wert, O., Dec. 30.—Mayor-elect A. C. Gilpin, after giving the question of his appointments much thoughtful consideration, with a view to selecting men who would make good, has announced that he will name W. T. Backus as director of public service, and Dale W. McMillen as director of safety.

Mr. Backus was for many years superintendent of the Cincinnati Northern railroad, in which position he won the high regard of the men most eminent in railroad circles, while Mr. McMillen has been equally successful in his line as a grain and hay man, having recently been chosen president of the National Hay Dealers' association.

With Mr. McMillen at the head of the safety department the citizens are assured that many evils, now known to exist in the city, will be remedied, and with the co-operation of the civil service commission, the police department, which has long needed a shaking up, will be an efficient means for the protection of the public, which it has not been in the past. Mr. Gilpin has one or two other minor appointments to make, but is not yet ready to announce them.

Beginning last June 15, all passenger vessels calling at Uruguay ports are required to be equipped with wireless apparatus.

IDENTIFIES MAN AS HER ASSAILANT

Rose Eisenacher Declares

Kohl Brute She Fought
in an Alley.

CONFESSES A THEFT

After listening to the voice and studying the form and features of Lee Kohl at police headquarters this morning, Miss Rose Eisenacher, a young woman of 1315 Taylor street, positively declared her belief that Kohl is the man who one night a few weeks ago dragged her into an alley off of Nelson street between Stophlet and Swinney and attempted to criminally assault her. For half an hour the young woman struggled with her assailant and finally he desisted in his attack on the girl's honor, expressing sorrow for what he had done, and left her.

Several suspects were under surveillance following the attack, but on none of them could the crime be fastened because Miss Eisenacher said she could more readily identify the man by his voice than by his appearance, it being dark where the struggle took place. Miss Eisenacher stated at the time that the man who attacked her said he watched her many times as she went to and from work and indicated that he had been planning his crime.

Kohl was arrested yesterday by Detective Sergeant Ward Hall and Motorcyclist Dan Kintz on a charge of burglarizing the poolroom of Erwin Lane, 2032 Broadway December 20, when two diamond rings were taken. It was thought from certain evidence that the poolroom had been forcibly entered, but in a confession made today to Detective Hall by Kohl it is shown that the job was a case of sneak thieving. Kohl says that while Lane and some of his patrons were playing rum in the rear of the poolroom he was asked to make some change at the cash drawer. Seeing the two rings he stole them.

Detective Hall, who has been working on the case for two weeks, suspected Kohl and at length fastened the robbery on him. One of the rings was recovered at a pawnshop. Kohl, when first arrested, sought to involve his wife in his crime, but there is no evidence at all that she knew he had stolen that one of the rings he took to her. Kohl and his wife reside at 1323 Zollars avenue.

It has been learned by Detective Hall that Kohl served a term in the Illinois reformatory for an attempt to commit a criminal assault on a small girl at Chicago Heights, a suburb in the southern environs of the city of Chicago, from which place Kohl came to Fort Wayne.

At headquarters today Miss Eisenacher was questioned for a time where she could hear Kohl talk without herself being seen. Later she was brought face to face with him and without hesitation pronounced him her assailant.

Kohl has been charged in the city court with petit larceny and is under $1,000 bond.

GIRL FAILS TO IDENTIFY MEN

Neither of Two Taken to

Home of Dorothy Harber
is Her Assailant.

SHE HAS SEEN THREE

After looking at two men taken to her home by Sheriff A. C. Gladieux this afternoon Dorothy Harber declared that neither of them was one of the two men who assaulted her in her home eight miles south of the city two weeks ago today.

The men were Fred Wetzel, arrested in New Haven Saturday, and Ed Wintend, arrested in Huntington and brought here this morning.

Both men had marks of resemblance to descriptions given by Miss Harber of the more brutal of her two assailants and the sheriff had hope that one of them would prove to be the man. Wintend is especially said to have answered the description. Wetzel is serving a twenty-five day sentence for vagrancy. Miss Harber has now viewed three suspects without recognizing her assailant. Wesley Carpenter being the first of them.

BUT ONE CHANGE IN PAVING MADE

Hearings on Material Com-

firm Primary Selections of the Board.

THE MUNICIPAL NEWS

As the result of hearings held by the board of works on the material to be chosen for the paving of eight streets, the primary selections made by the board were confirmed on seven of the eight contracts to be awarded. There was a considerable attendance of interested property owners at the hearing.

The one change made was on Killea street, where the property owners substituted anchored bituminous concrete for asphalt. The only contest was on Eliza street, where one resident property owner was arbiter of the situation and the descent of an estate by death was the point at issue. The choice of the board at length was confirmed on this street. As established today in the hearings the streets will be paved as follows:

Asphalt—Harrison street, First to Putnam; Eliza street, Gay to Winter; Oliver street, Thayer to Eckart; Calhoun street, Rudisill to McKinnis.

Brick—Wagner street, Spy Run avenue to a point 300 feet east of Hanna; Francis street, Erie to Hayden; Huestis avenue, Fox to Miner.

Anchored bituminous concrete—Killea street, Calhoun to Hoagland.

Awards will be made, probably on Friday, on the bids submitted nearly two weeks ago. These are the streets that were involved in the injunction suits instituted early in the month, the courts having declared the right of the board under the law to proceed as it has done.

Messrs. Frank E. Singrey and Robert E. Kelly, who have been designated as members of the Hoey board of works, were present at today's hearings by invitation of the Grace board.

BOARD'S MONDAY MEETING.

Large Number of Assessment Rolls Up for Determination.

Yesterday's regular meeting of the board of works was marked by progress with the formalities of a large number of improvements, each of which is a rather small detail. The board confirmed the assessment rolls for sidewalks on the north side of Berry street, Clay to Monroe, and the south side of Berry street, from the north side of Berry street to the end of the walk as now down. The resolution was modified to make the walks five and one-half feet in width.

Primary assessment rolls were confirmed for the widening and opening of a street adjoining the south right-of-way of the Wabash railroad, from Wabash avenue to Lombard street; vacating first alley north of Wall street, Union to College; vacating Lantz avenue, from Forest avenue to State boulevard, and portion of alley between Lantz avenue and Kentucky avenue; vacating portion of Malcomb street, between alley north of State to the alley north of Dodge; vacating first alley south of East Washington street, Grant to Wabash; vacating portion of alley on east line of Rockhill heirs' addition, from alley north of Howell to south line of same addition; vacating portion of alley between Wayne and Washington streets, Garden to Thieme drive; vacating first alley north of DeWald street, Broadway to first alley east; vacating portion of first alley west of Spy Run avenue, Randolph to first alley south.

A plat was approved for Mengerson's addition. The property abuts on Parcel avenue, north of State boulevard.

FINISH SUBWAY SIDEWALK.

The Mcclerking Construction company today completed the work of reconstructing the sidewalk on the east side of the Calhoun street subway. It will be opened to traffic in a few days. The work has been pressed with great rapidity and with favoring weather has been completed earlier than expected. Two or three frosty days and nights have made it necessary to enclose the work with canvas walls and to keep big fires burning and the work was carried on without a freeze. The reconstructed walks are a great improvement, being now thirty-two inches above the driveway levels, out of reach of splashing dirty water and of wheeled traffic. A high railing gives additional safeguards.

WIL APPOINT NEW FIREMEN.

At tonight's meeting of the board of safety five new firemen will be appointed to fill the places created by the last annual budget. There are a large number of applications and the board has had them under advisement for a week. It is doubtful if any policemen will be appointed tonight.

BIPPUS POSTOFFICE ROBBED.

Huntington, Ind., Dec. 30.—The post-office at Bippus was blown open and robbed of $2 in cash and $275 in stamps. People living near the post-office were not awakened. It is thought the robbers left on an early Erie speeder today, stolen at Newton Monday evening.

Gertrude A. Snyder says Charles A. Snyder was always cruel, nagged and cursed her, struck and beat her and on the 15th of last September mauled her with such violence that she was forced to seek refuge with neighbors. ERIE ONLY CITY THAT IS SOUGHT

Youngstown, Canton and Akron to Have Independent Base Ball.

HAS TWO CHANCES

Canton, O., Dec. 30.—Every day it looks more like independent ball for the big cities of the territory that was embraced by the Interstate league last season—Erie, Akron, Youngstown and of course Canton.

Not one of them seems to have more than a shadow of a chance to get into the organized game this coming season, which is creeping closer every day, and which will soon be so near at hand that it will be too late to undertake the organization of a circuit to take the place of the Interstate.

Erie has the best chance of getting something other than semi-pro ball, but even there the odds are against it. The status of Erie will be determined soon after the first of the year, when the leagues gather for their early meetings.

At this time the matter of redistricting the Pennsylvania territory will be considered. If looked upon with favor by the magnates, a new circuit will come into existence—the Pennsylvania State league. In that event Erie will find a berth along with other five or seven other good towns. Those behind the proposition declare that a good circuit of eight clubs can be formed with little trouble.

If the Penn State idea fails to go through the Canadian league will be the last resort for 1914. This league would like to shove a franchise into the Saylor town but the prospect has not taken hold of the Erie fans after their taste of Central ball two years ago.

Youngstown has no berth in sight, although it is likely that the Ohio State league would gladly accept an invitation to locate there. So far the proposition has not appealed to either Paul Powers or the Youngstown fans.

Up at Akron baseball is absolutely and hopelessly dead, so far as the formation of a league is concerned. There has been some talk of a strong independent team to be formed of local players, but not a word of a new circuit.

If these three cities fail to get into organized ball for the coming season, will Canton. The four would form the nucleus for a solid circuit but so far no one has appeared on the horizon to take the initiative.

ATTORNEY HOLDS CLAUSE IS GOOD

Says Reserve Agreement Will Stand Test in Any Court.

HE GIVES HIS REASONS

New York, Dec. 30.—The signing of Joe Tinker and Miller Brown with the Federal league has turned the discussion in baseball circles regarding the legality of the reserve clause. The present form of National league baseball contract containing this clause was drawn up by John O'Toole, an attorney of this city. His views, which are timely, are given in a statement published here today. He said:

"The reserve clause so-called, in the baseball contract, is nothing new or strange in the law of contracts. It is merely the application of well established legal principles to a new situation. The essentials of a contract briefly are: 1. parties competent to make an agreement; 2. something to agree on; 3. and a sufficient consideration for the bargain.

"We have all these requisites when a baseball manager and player get together and agree on terms. If as part of a contract of service for this year, in baseball or in selling goods a man gives to the employer an option on his time for next year is it anything unusual? Not at all. The present contract, beyond that, however, and specifically provides that a portion of the salary agreed to be paid to the player is to be regarded as direct consideration for the privilege granted to the club of reserving the player.

"The contract will stand the test in court or elsewhere, you may be sure. The players are as much interested in upholding the reserve clause as are the owners. If at the close of each season the whole situation degenerated into a mad scramble for players the whole system, which has made $5,000 salaries possible would go to ruin and the 'good old days' when Radbourne used to pitch seventy games and play thirty more in the outfield each year for $1,400 might come back again.

Mr. Tinker, the former President Thomas J. Lynch's legal adviser in the Horace Fogel case a year ago, is and attorney for the Boston National league club.

WILLARD CLEANS UP THE BOER.

Knocks Out Man With Whom He Fought Indifferent Battle Before Trip Here.

At New Haven, Conn., last night Jess Willard landed a left uppercut on the jaw of George Rodel in the ninth round of a mill scheduled for twenty rounds, and stopped the battle right then and there. When Willard was here he had just returned from Milwaukee, where he met Rodel and put up an indifferent sort of a fight against him but last night's mill left no doubt of the superiority of the cowboy.

HE HAS ALREADY CROSSED THE MEDITERRANEAN SEA, AND AT KARFOOS, SYRIA, WAS 2,500 MILES ON HIS WAY. EARL MACK IS FOLLOWING IN THE STEPS OF HIS ILLUSTRIOUS DAD.

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—There was an English music hall singer who sang a catchy ballad called "Following in Father's Footsteps." The song applies to Earl Mack, son of Connie Mack, the sage of Lehigh avenue. Mack the younger is making a name for himself as a tactician, although hardly out of his teens.

Earl took hold of the Raleigh, N. C. team last season and made a big success of it. He not only finished high in the race but developed some players for the Athletics, among them Crutcher, the young insider.

The youth's fame has spread far and wide in Dixie, and a short time ago he was selected to coach the University of North Carolina baseball squad, which always turns out a strong team.

Mack certainly must be held in high esteem by the collegians, for he succeeded Mike Cincery, a man who has coached North Carolina nine for a number of years with distinction to himself. Cincery, by the way, is the man who is alleged to have tipped off to the Amateur Athletic union the fact of Jim Thorpe's baseball activities in the south, which led to the famous athlete's expulsion from amateur ranks.

Returning to Earl Mack, it is not generally known outside of Philadelphia that he participated behind the bat in a complete major league game. Several years ago Earl was called to catch Eddie Plank in a championship game. The young looked like a baby alongside his father, but he caught a warm-up game, proving that he could peg to bases and hit the ball.

Last season Earl covered first base for Raleigh, and on July 3 made what is declared to be a world's record, when in an eighteen inning game he accepted thirty-one chances without an error. It is not without the pale of possibility that the boy will return to the father's team before many more seasons.

YINGLING SAYS HE IS PLEASED WITH DEAL THAT SENT HIM TO REDS.

Earl Yingling, the left-handed pitcher who will be purchased from Brooklyn, motored down from his home at Lebanon, O., to Cincinnati, when he heard that that city was to be his future baseball home. Yingling astounded all whom he encountered. This amazing young man said he was pleased with the deal and would glad to come to Cincinnati. He did not say that he refused to stand for the deal.

He did not state that he would play in New York or Boston, but not here.

PATTERSON ONLY ONE OF ACTIVES

Death Roll Includes Former Fort Wayne Ball Player.

MAJORS LOST NONE

Chicago, Dec. 30.—In the year now nearing its close death has exacted a heavy toll from the ranks of those prominent in varied fields of sport and athletics. Baseball, football, pugilism, the turf, trap shooting, the greyhound sport, the track world, all have paid toll to the Grim Reaper during the past twelve months.

The most notable death of the year in major league baseball circles was that of William H. Dwyer, president of the Philadelphia National league club, who died in Atlantic City last August after a long illness. Former club owners and managers who passed away during the year included P. E. Hoyle, ex-president of the Cleveland American league club; James B. Billings, for thirty years one of the owners of the Boston National league club; William Dwyer, who managed the New York team when it won the Western league pennant in 1905, and the long to be remembered Chris Von der Ahe, owner of the old St. Louis champion ball team of 1885-88, and for many years one of the best known baseball magnates in the country.

The great body of active ball players has been singularly fortunate in losing none of its members during the year. So far as the big leagues were concerned; while the only minor league player of note who passed away was Clarence Patterson, star outfielder in 1912 of the champion Oakland team of the Pacific Coast league.

Former ball players who died during the year, some of them widely famous in their day, were "Jiggs" Donahue, former star first baseman for the Chicago White Sox; Jack Doyle, a former catcher and first baseman of the Phillies and other clubs; Thomas J. Dolan, who caught for the old St. Louis Browns when they held the National league championship; Charles Tabor, who was said to have been the first great left-handed pitcher; Frank L. ("Red") Donahue, who had pitched for St. Louis, Philadelphia, Cleveland and other major league teams; Harry O'Hagan, once known as a player with the National Eastern and New England leagues; Mount MacFarland, formerly with the Chicago American league and the Indianapolis club; and John J. Bauer, who played with the Chicago White Sox in 1886; George E. ("Chummy") Gray, once a little known pitcher in the big and little leagues; Michael Driscoll, an old time catcher for the St. Louis Browns; Michael Conner, once a catcher for the Cincinnati Reds and also for Louisville; Ed Miller, who pitched for Detroit, New York and Pittsburgh; Charles H. Robinson, who played with the Providence team of the National league; John O'Brien, who led the New England league and later managed the Louisville club; Edmond Charlton, who caught for the Peoria and other minor league clubs; and Walter ("Dutch") Moore, once a well known in Eastern, Western and Tri-State league circles.

Also under the head of baseball chronology may be placed the names of Charles Daney Power, old time ball player, umpire, and for many years a Pittsburgh sporting writer; and John Gaffney, known throughout the baseball world for many years as the "king of umpires." The most notable death in pugilistic circles was that of Luther McCarty, claimant to the world's light weight championship, who was killed by Arthur Polky. Another victim of the ring was John ("Bull") Young, who died from the effects of a blow received in a fight with Jess Willard at Vernon, Cal. Jim Hall, best remembered for his $40,000 fight with Fitzsimmons at New Orleans in 1892, died in a tuberculosis sanitarium in Wisconsin.

The turf lost Tommy Burns, internationally famous as a jockey, and James B. Keene, whose racing stable was for many years the most noted in America. Also prominently identified with the turf was Stephen Sanford, owner of the Hurrican stables. Charles H. Kothler, also a prominent owner of race horses, and Joseph J. Bug, a noted judge.

Football fatalities were not so few, the only deaths recorded among the college players being those of Vernon S. Geyre, halfback on the Norwich university team; Ed Morrison, captain of St. Ambrose college; and Homer S. Wray, a player on the Gettysburg college team.

Amateur athletics sustained severe losses in the passing of Michael C. Murphy, the famous Irish variety of Pennsylvania trainer; Ralph Rose, holder of the Olympic and world's records for shot putting; Billy Quinn, trainer of the weight men and hurdlers at Harvard; and George Tracey, who once held the amateur half-back running championship of America.

Well known automobile racers who met death in the track during the year were Louis Manthey, killed at Norfolk, Neb.; Harry C. Knight, killed at Columbus, O.; and Jack Forest, who met death in the El Paso-Phoenix road race. Also well known in American racing circles was Camille Jenatton, a Belgian pilot, who was accidentally shot and killed near Brussels several weeks ago.

Deaths of nobles in other branches of sport in 1913 included those of Frank Maggloil, well known professional football player; Capt. A. N. Bogardus, and Capt. John S. Brewer, both of whom had held the world's championship as wing champion single scull oarsman of the United States.

COLLINS BETTER THAN THE STARS

More Dangerous in a Pinch Than Baker or Joe Jackson.

COBB GIVES OPINION

Detroit, Dec. 30.—Ty Cobb says Eddie Collins is the most dangerous batter in baseball. Here's how the Georgian figures it out:

"The first time I saw Eddie Collins play, which was in 1905, when he was appearing with the Athletics under the name of Eddie Sullivan and was still in college, he did not look like a hitter. Today he is probably the most dangerous in baseball, as his work in the last world's series showed. I consider him to be far more valuable to a team than Jackson or even Hafner. He is a wonderfully scientific batter and takes advantage of every flaw of the defense, driving the ball at holes in the infield when a baseman goes to cover, and frequently outguessing the outfielders by placing his drives.

Collins also has developed great form, as is shown by the speed at which he pushes out the ball. He is not physically robust, yet he gets his whole body into his swing in such a way that the drives go from his bat like rifle shot. He busts them as hard as any man in the league, I believe.

"Harry Davis, once weak with the stick, became a dangerous batter under Connie Mack. Harry was no batter at all when he joined the Athletics, but now he is one of the best on the team in a pinch. Jimmy Walsh was known as a sucker on a curve ball at first, but under Mack he got so he could hit curves better than fast ones, although he is not a great batter yet. And so the Athletics go.

This battling strain year after year is too much of a good thing, especially when you are fighting to hold the lead in the league. Few persons realize the tension that this keeps a man under, and I am usually crumpling from the beginning to the end of the season. I get worse as the time goes along, and more of my hair falls out each summer. I'll soon be entirely bald and then they can try out some hair restorer on me. I am often asked which pitchers are hardest for me to hit. Walter Johnson always looks tough to me, and Ford is also effective.

"Another feature of this fight for the batting lead of the league is that the players do not give a man any rest. You have got to keep on going whether you are sick or not, because otherwise the spectators will say you are quitting. I played for a week in 1911 with a fever at 104. A man goes through a whole lot to attain the hitting championship. If you are hurt and laid off for a few days you are liable to hold the lead in the line-up as soon as you are fit to hobble around and put on a uniform or the newspapers and fans will holler. They won't give you a chance to get your eye on the ball again before going back into the game. They'll say you are laying off because you are lazy, and that you are all right."

SWITCH CLUB IN FINDLAY BATTLE

Saints Determined to Make Winning Combination of Material.

PIEL IS WORKING OUT

When the St. Mary's Athletic basket ball team takes the floor on Saturday night against the Morrissey five of Findlay, Tom Harkender will likely be in Jack Berghoff's old place at center. Prof. Louis Piel will work with either McArdle, Hafner or Munster at forward and Clem "Saddle" Eckrich will fall back with Mike Hoffman to a job at guarding.

This plan is tentative. The professor has his Christmas must off his hands now and is working out with the players and if he learns the signals by Saturday night he will be shoved into the line-up and he will certainly strengthen where it is weakest as he can shoot baskets from most any angle and is a willing mixer and fast in the floor work.

Jack Berghoff is way off in his shooting. He says so himself and he ought to know, so he will try a layoff and see how the new combination will work. Some of the players, in fact the majority of them, are bothered by the cage in which they play their games. They don't seem to understand the cage and where they are, but all agree that they are hampered and that this fact accounts for their defeats at the hands of Zanesville and Wittenberg.

The net will be maintained, however, and the players will have to get used to it as there is a lot of money invested in it and it is a great protection to the spectators. The next game after Morrissey will be with the Curlicues of Dayton, O.

Members of the club realize fully that they have not been playing up to their standard. All are youngsters and they have not learned the game where any one of them is going back so they will keep working away until they find out where the trouble is and find a remedy for it.

BENZ JOINS THE FRIARS.

Working Out and May Go Into the Open-Ing Bout Thursday.

If Charles Benz can get into condition and learn the team work of the Friar basket ball five by Thursday night he will pair with Jennings at forward, with Loos at center and Fletcher, Howell and Scott contending for the places at guard.

In the St. Louis seminary team the Friars have a good card for the opening of their season and accommodations have been arranged for a big crowd it is expected that Library hall will be packed. Loos is a youngster but he has shown well in practice and it is believed he will be able to hold his own at center.

THE GREATEST ANNOYANCE OF SHOPPING IS THE "JUST AS GOOD" ARTICLE

Insist on Genuine Herpicide.

To be sure there are not many dealers who push "something just as good" when the advertised article is requested. Still what few there are should know that by their policy they are destroying the customers' confidence and perhaps losing business.

The most effective rebuke is not to wait for the story, simply hunt a store where they will sell you what you want.

The dealer who states that a preparation is as good as Herpicide is not sincere, he doesn't believe it himself. Every druggist knows that there is but one genuine, original dandruff germ destroyer, and that is Newbro's Herpicide.

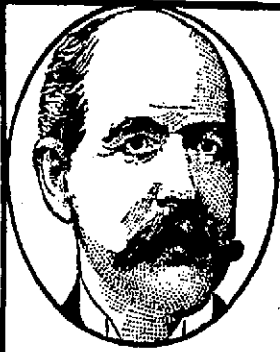

It keeps the head free from dandruff, prevents the hair from coming out and stops itching of the scalp.

Herpicide is a wonderful remedy which does just what you want and expect it to do.

Sold in 50-cent and $1.00 sizes by all dealers. It is guaranteed to do all that is claimed for it or money will be refunded.

Sold everywhere. Applications obtained at the better barber shops and beauty parlors.

CHICKEN THIEVES

HELD AT DELPHOS

Jack Foright, Claiming Fort Wayne as His Home, One of the Men Arrested for Robbery.

Delphos, O., Dec. 30.—Accused of stealing chickens at the farm of Louis Grothman, south of Delphos, and selling them to Perry Johnson, who resides in the country in that vicinity, two men, one of whom gave his name as Jack Foright, and his home Fort Wayne, and the other, who claimed his name was H. Boyd, but which it is said is really "Doggie" Miller, a noted police character of Van Wert, are now in the city prison here. The former was arrested in Lima Saturday afternoon and was brought to Delphos by Chief Kehres, and the latter was taken into custody in that city and was brought to Delphos by Chief Kehres at noon Monday.

A number of chickens were stolen at the home of Louis Grothman south of Delphos Thursday night, and it was learned that chickens answering the description of the missing ones were sold to Mr. Johnson, who furnished a description of the men. Two strangers put up a rig at the Alexander livery barn in Delphos, Friday morning, and left at about 9 o'clock, driving east on First street. They answered to the description given by Johnson, and Chief Kehres, accompanied by Wm. Alexander, went to Lima Friday, where they learned that the rig was the property of a Lima livery firm and that the same had been returned Friday morning. It had been hired by the two men on Thursday evening. A description of the two men was given to the Lima police and Foright was placed under arrest Saturday.

When arraigned before Mayor Williams Sunday, he admitted that he and Miller had been in Delphos and that chickens had been sold to Perry Johnson, but claimed that Miller had sold them and that he knew nothing of how Miller secured the chickens.

SUES AUTOIST FOR $5,000.

Goshen, Ind., Dec. 30.—Mrs. Dora Miner, of Goshen, has sued Eugene E. Stutz, a manufacturer here, for $5,000 damages. Mrs. Miner and her husband were riding in a buggy at 6 o'clock one evening when Stutz, in an auto without lights, it is alleged, crashed into them. The woman was thrown to the pavement and badly hurt.

CHASED RABBIT; IS IN JAIL.

Respected Resident of Geneva Serving Time Under Peculiar Conviction.

Decatur, Ind., Dec. 30.—Daniel Runyon, the well known respected citizen of east of Geneva, who refused to pay the fine and costs of $23.75 adjudged against him in "Squire Dickerson's court" at Geneva, and was accordingly brought to jail here to serve out the twenty-four days' time, was not charged with hunting without a license, as stated erroneously, but for hunting on Daniel Minger's farm without a permit from the owner, who accordingly swore out the affidavit against him. Runyon's version of the affair, according to local officials, is that he was hunting on his own place and had shot a rabbit on his own farm. The rabbit was only wounded and able to get away, running over onto Minger's farm. Runyon's dog pursued the rabbit up near Minger's house and killed it and Runyon went over and got the rabbit, without having a permit from Minger, who accordingly caused his arrest. Runyon alleges that as soon as his service in jail here is over he is going to take action against Minger, as Runyon states that both he and his son saw him shooting a fox squirrel on Sunday out of season, and he is going to make that a basis of retaliation against Minger.

FIRE STILL A MYSTERY.

No Light on Causes of Burning of Auburn Postcard Factory.

Auburn, Ind., Dec. 30.—The mystery attending the origin of the Auburn Postcard factory fire remains impenetrable and it is doubtful if the true cause of the conflagration that reduced the splendid new factory to ashes, entailing a loss of $50,000, will ever be known.

Perry Long, contractor for the new Y. M. C. A. building and a member of the volunteer fire department, was the first fireman to reach the scene. It was learned Sunday that he with a number of the first arrivals grabbed a hose in the hose room at the east end of the Eckhart Carriage factory and dragged them to the furnace room of the postcard factory, entered there and began their search for the source of the fire.

In the furnace room they were nearly overcome by steam and smoke and while the water that splashed back in their faces told them that the fire was in that vicinity they were unable to see the blaze and efforts to find just where the fire started were unavailing.

OBITUARY.

MRS. JOHN D. SMITH.

Antwerp, O., Dec. 30.—Eliza Jane, the eldest daughter of Charles and Mary Adams, was born on a farm in Paulding county, near Cecil, Ohio, Sept. 12th, 1845. Died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Kigar, at Fort Wayne, Ind., Dec. 24th, 1915, aged 68 years, 3 months and 12 days. She had been an invalid for a period of two years with that dread affliction—cancer of the stomach, but had been confined to her bed but a few weeks until the grim reaper called her from among those who loved her. She was married to John D. Smith at Cecil, Ohio, Oct. 29th, 1863. To this union two children were born—Andrew N. Smith and Mrs. E. J. Kigar, both now living in Fort Wayne. The deceased with her husband celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Oct. 29th, 1913, at the home of her daughter. She leaves a husband, John D. Smith; one son, A. N. Smith, and a daughter, Mrs. E. J. Kigar; one sister, Mrs. David Zuber, of Antwerp, O., and three grandchildren to mourn her departure into the great beyond. Funeral services were held at the home of her sister at Antwerp, O., Saturday, Dec. 27th, 1915, at 2 p. m. Rev. J. H. Bardsley, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating, after which her remains were laid to their final rest in Maumee cemetery, where relatives and friends paid their last tribute to a loving wife and a kind and affectionate mother. T. C. B.

Mr. Gottsman, who, in the day of his death, enjoyed good health and a contented mind, was born in Germany and came to this country many years ago, going first to South Bend, where he entered the employ of William Conrad, as a blacksmith, at the time Mr. Conrad was in business in that city before removing to Warsaw.

$150,000 FOR THE DISCOVERY OF HOW TO USE A VEGETABLE

The discovery of how to use a vegetable in the right way has made for a young European singer a fortune. A few years ago it was unknown in America and now Waw-Waw is to be found in the principal hotels, railroads and homes in this country. The singer, who had suffered for years with severe indigestion, made the recipe to contain the vegetable, which had been mentioned to him by a celebrated French doctor as a marvelous digestive. The great cooks of Europe have pronounced Waw-Waw unequalled and the success of this sauce has been phenomenal. Add a little Waw-Waw to the cooking and in the soups, salads, with beef and cold meats and fish and notice how easily you digest anything and what a piquancy and delicious flavor it adds. A 25-cent bottle from your local grocer will convince you how much more you will enjoy your food and how very easily you can digest anything. Waw-Waw (an obsolete South American word for vegetable) is a vegetable sauce and guaranteed pure. It is unlike any other sauce, and although it resembles in flavor a Worcestershire, yet the ingredients used are quite different. Miss Lillian Russell (the beautiful actress), writes: "Waw-Waw is delicious. Added to soups, salads, meats and fish it is unequalled."

His children, now grown to manhood and womanhood, were reared in Warsaw. They are: Margaret, who has been her father's companion and caretaker for many years; Mrs. Carrie Zekind and Mrs. Louisa Hendricks, both of Chicago, and Peter Gottsman, now living in Texas.

LOCOMOTIVE ON JOY JAUNT.

Garrett, Ind., Dec. 30.—A B. & O. engine while standing in the round house here decided that it would take a little trip, and as a result a part of the round house wall was sadly demolished. The engine had come in from a run on the road and was left settling quietly in the round house. A leak in the steam valves became so forceful that the engine started itself and did not stop until it was half way through the brick wall of the round house. The engine was not hurt in the least by the trip, but the wall was badly demolished, as the engine went half way through before stopping.

timed easy but the more active options made a moderate gain.

The market closed easy, 1/2c to 3/4c under last high.

Lightness in the December delivery was firmness to the rest of the corn market. Prices started 1/4c off to 1c up and steadied not far below the top level of opening figures.

The close was weak, 1/2c to 1c net lower.

Shorts in the oats trade covered on account of the corn bulge. When their wants were satisfied, however, the market relaxed.

Provisions eased off a little in consequence of the downward slant of values at the wheat. First sales varied from the same as last night to a decline of 2 1/2c.
